Response to 4BC Brisbane

ALDI is committed to providing safe products of the highest quality. We have extensive quality assurance processes in place to ensure the ongoing safety, quality and regulatory compliance of our products.

Both ionisation and photo electric smoke alarms went on sale at ALDI as part of our 8 March Special Buys. We can confirm that both alarms comply with government legislation. Legislation permits ionisation alarms to be used in mobile dwellings such as motor homes and caravans.

All of ALDI's products come with a 60 day customer guarantee, so if any customer is unsatisfied with this product, they are welcome to return it to their local store for a full refund.
